9. QUESTION: (INCLUDE SCENARIO IF NEEDED FOR CLARITY):

Per ACIN I-60-13 A telephonic signature is a type of electronic signature that uses an individual's recorded spoken signature or verbal assent in place of an actual written signature, and is considered legally enforceable under certain conditions. The use of a telephonic signature, as part of the application or redetermination/recertification process, will eliminate the process of mailing documents in order to gather a client's ink signature. Section 1633.7(c) of the UETA specifies that if a law requires a signature, an electronic signature satisfies the law. Further, an electronic signature is defined at section 1633.2(h) as an electronic sound, symbol, or process attached to or logically associated with an electronic signature.

Question: Could the use of the check box in the electronic case file in conjunction with a case comment be used instead of the verbal recording?

10. REQUESTOR'S PROPOSED ANSWER:

Please reference PI from SB county dated 1/8/14.

Per Civil Code section 1633.7 - it states that an electronic signature could be a sound, symbol, OR PROCESS attached to or logically associated with an electronic signature. It is our understanding that the check box in the electronic case file, in conjunction with a case comment may be used instead of the verbal recording.

11. STATE POLICY RESPONSE (CFPB USE ONLY):

The check box in the electronic case file, along with case comments, may not be used instead of the verbal recording. ACIN I-60-13 (page three) states as part of the Farm Bill Provisions, as mandated by 7 U.S.C. § 2020(e)(2)(C), "CWDs must record both the household's verbal assent that it is officially applying for benefits and the information it is assenting to."
